Minster Lovell, United KingdomOne of the prettiest of the Oxfordshire villages, Minster Lovell was built on the banks of the bucolic, meandering River Windrush, essential to the wool trade that flourished in the medieval Cotswolds. Thatched-roof stone cottages line its quiet rural lane. A short distance outside the village, the 15th-century Minster Lovell Hall is steeped in legend. The surrounding lands once belonged to the Lovell family, and Francis Lovell fought in the Wars of the Roses with Richard III at the battle of Bosworth.CULTURAL ENRICHMENT: During the exclusive TOWN & COUNTRY LIFE FORUM, local residents will discuss contemporary life in the Cotswolds.

Cotswold and Oxfordshire VillagesOne of the Cotswolds best known villages, Stow-on-the-Wold is a delightful market town set along Fosse Way, the first great Roman road in Britain. It was designed around its market square during the height of the English wool industry, where as Daniel Dafoe told it, up to 20,000 sheep a day were funneled to market along narrow-walled avenues, called tunes.
Nestled inside the scenic Vale of Evesham, medieval Chipping Campden was built on the “white gold” wealth of the wool merchants, who left behind the soaring 15th-century Gothic tower of the Church of St. James and wool-tycoon manors, including the 14th-century Grevel House. Here villagers carry on along High Street, which still retains its old English character.

Simply beautiful, Broadway was first settled by the Romans and is often referred to as the “Jewel of the Cotswolds.” The home of William Morris, leader of the English Arts and Crafts Movement whose devotees settled throughout the Cotswolds, this village was once a major stage coach stop brimming with inns and public houses and today beckons travelers with its splendor and tranquility.

Scenes from the acclaimed international PBS MASTERPIECE television series Downton Abbey are filmed in Bampton, one of the oldest towns in England. First established during the Iron Age, with later markings as the site of an extensive unwalled Roman settlement, the historic town is included in William the Conquerer’s Domesday Book of 11th-century shires and landholders.

The magnificent Church of St. John the Baptist is tucked away at the bottom of Burford’s main road. Inside, a monument to Henry VIII’s surgeon-barber is said to contain the first depictions of native Americans in Britain.

Blenheim Palace
Sir Winston Churchill remarked that he’d made two of the most important decisions of his life at Blenheim Palace—to be born and to marry. He continued, in that dry wit of his, to say he was “content with the decision I took on both occasions.” Built in the 18th century by another national hero, Sir John Churchill, the first Duke of Marlborough, with funds donated by a grateful Queen Anne after his victory at the Battle of Blenheim, this stunning Baroque masterpiece today is a UNESCO World Heritage site and one of Britain’s most treasured stately homes. The estate’s 2200-acre parkland and gardens were designed by the legendary English landscape architect “Capability” Brown.

CULTURAL ENRICHMENT: By special arrangement, meet your host, Lord Charles Spencer-Churchill, who will give our group a private and personal introduction to his family home before an exclusive luncheon in the Marlborough Room.

Oxford
Affectionately named the “city of dreaming spires” by adoring poets, Oxford is home to Britain’s most venerated university which counts Sir Thomas More, Percy Bysshe Shelley and Margaret Thatcher among its illustrious alumni. Steeped in eight centuries of history and erudition, Oxford continues to nurture great scholars while blending its revered traditions with cutting-edge research and instruction provided by many of the world’s brightest minds. Here, the exclusive customs of a Formal Hall dinner require proper attire, or college gowns, and are still honored with a three-course meal and waiter service. Magnificent cobblestone squares, medieval alleyways and Renaissance quadrangles fill the grounds of the oldest university in the English-speaking world.

CULTURAL ENRICHMENT: Visit Trinity College and the Ashmolean Museum.

CULTURAL ENRICHMENT: Exclusive lecture on student life at Oxford.

PBS’s MASTERPIECE series Downton Abbey portrays Church Gate House as the home of Lady Crawley.

Your Farewell Dinner will be held in one of Oxford’s oldest and most beautiful dining halls.
CULTURAL ENRICHMENT:
Join your traveling companions for an exclusive and private Farewell Dinner in one of the college's hallowed dining halls.

Jane Austen's England
Beloved author Jane Austen deftly chronicled the transition from the 18th century’s emphasis on sense, reason and improvement to the 19th century’s emphasis on sensibility and romantic excitement.

The hotel’s beautiful architecture and historic setting provide the perfect venue to enjoy afternoon tea. Each room has all the modern amenities of a fine hotel and the hotel has an elevator.

Old Swan & Minster Mill
Tucked away in a lovely corner of the Cotswolds and ideally located at the heart of Minster Lovell, the intimate Old Swan & Minster Mill is both quintessentially English and captures the charm of bygone years and the romance of the countryside with all the modern conveniences of a fine hotel. Enjoy the pristine gardens and calmly flowing river on the property. Featuring a gastro-pub inspired dining room, bar and Wi-Fi, this quaint country inn is an ideal “home” from which to explore the English countryside.
